2. Chapter 1

It seen like a normal day, star walks around alone on his schedule. Normally star sapphires walk and fight in packs sorta like wolves but this star sapphire is sorta an outcast and he is known as the lone wolf. He walked around the white diamond's fortress, watching out for any dangerous gem, corrupted gems, etc. He tried to avoid other gems as he made his daily walk. A group of star sapphires walked toward him as they were laughing and talking about their stories. The lonely one looks down as he keeps his hood on as they walked pass him. He sigh as he looks up and continue his daily route.

Later that day, there was an announcement at the fortress. All guards run over as well as the lonely star sapphire. White diamond was standing on a platform as there was something covered in a sheet. Star makes his way to the front of the crowd as the white diamond smiles at her subjects. "Welcome my warriors! Today, we have a new type of gem created by our scientist… this one has two well… our finest gems back in the wars day before they shattered along with many others… " she frowns "but anyways we found out how to reuse those who are lost and along that, we created a new gem! I would you all like to meet azotic topaz! Also known as subject 759." She pulls cloth off of the table to reveal a pink and orange gem and two bracelets with gems on them as star blinks, wondering what is the whole point of bringing all the guards here… "now I bet your wondering why I bring you all here… well I would like one of you to watch over the gem and tell me, how well does it fight, and all that. It would also be nice if we know what weapon it summons or what power it has. Same with the bracelets and train with it…. Now.. Azotic topaz reform" the gem on table reforms and he stands on platform, he wobbled a bit as white diamond giggles and helped him stand as some of the guards starts whispering. "Now!... Who would volunteer to watch him?" said white diamond, The guards whispers as star looks around and listen to their conversation. " I am not babysitting a gem" said one guard. Azotic starts to frown and looks down. "Anyone?" White diamond said. Star sighs and he slowly raises hand "me" he said while looking down as some of the guards look at him. Azotic blinks and looks up, looking over at star. "Come up here then" white diamond said as she smiled as the star sapphire walked up to platform. "Hello…azotic this is star sapphire… he will be your tutor… he will teach you everything you need… " said white diamond. Azotic nods. as he looked over at star and smiled. Star doesn't show any expressions as azotic blinks and frowns. "Something wrong azotic?" Azotic blinks "n-no" he whispered. White diamond nods as she smiled "remember star sapphire, teach him everything he needs to know about fight and gems" she said "yes ma'am" he said
